

IASSM

Since its establishment in 1989, the Irish Association of Sterile Services Managers (IASSM) continues its aim to educate and develop standards for personnel working in decontamination. The IASSM (through its Educational Committee) achieves this through the organising of conferences, training & educational sessions, and study days, while also disseminating the latest developments in sterile services to its members. Visit the IASSM website today at www.wfhss.com and click on the Ireland homepage.

Irish Association of Sterile Services Managers

Study Day 2007

'Understanding
the Reprocessing Life-Cycle'

24th February 2007

Dublin Dental School & Teaching Hospital

Application Form

Application Form

IASSM 2007

